

Angelica Cantanti Youth Choir News Release

For release: March 2, 2011

Contact:

Audrey Riddle, Executive Director, 612-272-4568

Hundreds of singers to perform in “Everybody Sing” Bloomington Choir Festival on March 20

BLOOMINGTON, MINN. – Bloomington’s favorite choral groups are coming together to present a special concert to celebrate our community and the beauty and power of choral singing. The “Everybody Sing” Choir Festival will feature 10 different choirs and hundreds of singers from age 7 – 99.

Groups performing include: The Angelica Cantanti Youth Choirs directed by Rita Docter, Ann Schrooten, Nancy Grundahl and Philip Brown. Select choirs from Olson Middle School, directed by Shelley Ohnsorg, Oak Grove Middle School directed by Bryan Blessing and Valley View Middle School directed by Chris Laumann. The Bloomington Chorale directed by Steve Johnston, NOTE-able Singers directed by Judy Nurkkala and The Sing for Your Singers from Friendship Village retirement community, directed by Jeanie Brindley-Barnett. Each choir will sing individually followed by a grand finale with all 400+ singers performing “I Hear America Singing” arranged by Andre Thomas.

“Everybody Sing” Bloomington Choir Festival will be held on Sunday, March 20 at 3:00pm at St. Michael’s Lutheran Church, 9201 Normandale Blvd., Bloomington. Admission is free.

The event is hosted by the Angelica Cantanti Youth Choirs and made possible by a special grant from the Bloomington Fine Arts Council.

For more information, call 952-563-8572 or visit www.angelicacantanti.org.

###